HM1 Increases Dividend Frequency

Hearts & Minds Limited (ASX: HM1) announced in their full year results that the Company will be increasing the dividend frequency from annual to semi-annual. The Company previously paid a dividend in April after the roll over of the conference portfolio. The Company now intends to pay a dividend in April and October each year. The Company paid a dividend of 13.5 cents per share in April 2023 and declared a semi-annual dividend of 7 cents per share, fully franked, to be paid in October 2023.

FY23 LIC & LIT Review

The FY23 earnings season wrapped up in August. Below, we take a look at the portfolio performance of the LICs and LITs, represented by the pre-tax NTA (NTA after tax on realised gains and before tax on unrealised gains) figures for the LICs and NAV for the LITs, as well as the dividends/distributions declared for the FY23 period and how they compare to the prior year. We will provide a detailed account of the dividend coverage of the LICs in a later report.

Pre-Tax NTA/NAV Returns & Share/Unit Price Returns

To begin with we take a look at the pre-tax NTA (NTA after tax on realised gains and before tax on unrealised gains)/NAV performance and the share/unit price performance of the LICs and LITs over the FY23 period. We have included the performance of relevant Broad market indices in the below analysis for illustrative purposes. We note that the indices performance is before tax.

After weak markets weighed on portfolios in FY22, many portfolios bounced back in FY23 with the market performance better than many predicted. The global markets performed better than the domestic market with the MSCI World Index, Net, AUD, increasing 22.4% over the 12-months to 30 June 2023. This compared to the ASX All Ordinaries Accumulation Index which rose 14.8%. Australian small caps recouped some of the losses from the FY22 period, although underperformed large cap stocks with the ASX Small Ordinaries Accumulation Index up 8.4% over the 12-month period.

Australian Equities - Large Cap

Cumulative Total Returns (30 June 2022 to 30 June 2023)

The performance of Australian Large Cap portfolios was positive across the board for the FY23 period, with the portfolios of all LICs and LITs in this category posting positive performance.

PIC and PL8 were the only two portfolios (based on the pre-tax NTA and NAV) that outperformed the S&P/ASX 200 Accumulation Index over the period. We note that PL8's returns are grossed up for franking credits. PIC's portfolio was buoyed by its international holdings with the share price of its largest international holding, Flutter, up over 100% in the FY23 period.

As can be seen in the above chart, while portfolios delivered positive returns, share prices dislocated from portfolio performance. Notably, AFI's shareholder return was negative for the period as the share price re-rated from the substantial premium it was trading at back towards the portfolio value. PL8 experienced the greatest shareholder returns of the group, with the insatiable appetite for the fully franked monthly dividend seeing the Company continue to trade at a substantial premium to pre-tax NTA.

Australian Equities - Mid & Small Cap

Cumulative Total Returns (30 June 2022 to 30 June 2023)

*Returns are from 31 October 2022 to 30 June 2023 as the Company has less than 12-months performance history.

The portfolio performance of the Australian Mid and Small Cap category was mixed with some portfolios performing very strongly and others underperforming the market.

13 of the 23 LICs/LITs in the category outperformed the ASX Small Ordinaries Accumulation Index over the FY23 period with all but two LIC/LIT portfolios generating a positive return. This compares to the FY22 period where no LIC/LIT in the category had a positive portfolio return, a period where the ASX Small Ordinaries Accumulation Index was down 19.5%.

After NAC, OPH, ECP and FOR had the worst performing portfolios in the FY22 period, these four LICs/LITs had the best performing portfolios in the FY23 period. While all four LICs and LITs bounced back strongly, none recouped all the declines experienced in FY22.

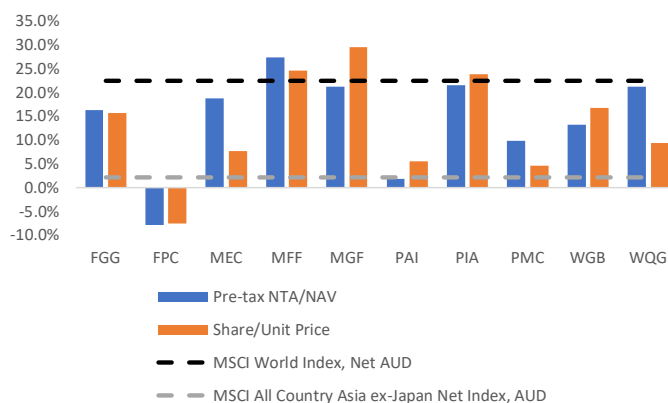

While portfolios performed strongly, the same can't be said for shareholder returns, with shareholder returns weak compared to portfolio performance. Despite only two portfolios posting a negative return over the FY23 period, 13 had negative shareholder returns, with the two LICs/LITs that had negative portfolio returns hit the hardest.

WAA, WAM, WAX and WMI all had negative shareholder returns as the market prices re-rated back towards portfolio values. While WAM maintained its dividend for the FY23 period, the sustainability of the dividend is coming under increasing pressure with the share price reflecting the increased risks associated with the sustainability of the dividend. WAM traded at a discount in the FY23 period for the first time in 10 years. While the share price has factored in some of the risk, we think the share price will likely come under further pressure in the event of a dividend cut.

Despite ECP and MIR generating portfolio returns of in excess of 15%, shareholder returns were negative with both LICs trading at discounts as at 30 June 2023.

International Equities - Diversified & Emerging Markets

Cumulative Total Returns (30 June 2022 to 30 June 2023)

The global market performed strongly over the FY23 period despite the macro economic headwinds, with the MSCI World Index, Net, AUD, increasing 22.4%. This was largely driven by the US market and provided favourable conditions for the portfolios that had large US exposure, although as has been well publicised the performance was primarily driven by certain sectors and was not broad based.

All but one LIC/LIT delivered a positive portfolio performance over the period with those portfolios with large exposures to the US market delivering the best performance.

PAI invests in the Asia ex Japan region, a market which significantly lagged the global market over the FY23 period. The MSCI All Country Asia ex-Japan Index, Net, AUD, increased just 2.1% with China being a significant drag for the region. This weighed on the returns of PAI, the pre-tax NTA of which delivered just below market returns for the period.

PMC had an overweight exposure to China over the period and a heavily underweight net exposure to the US which weighed on its returns for the period.

International/Australia Equities - Blended

Cumulative Total Returns (30 June 2022 to 30 June 2023)

The portfolios of CAM and HM1 performed strongly over the FY23, rebounding from the declines in the FY22 period. While improved, the HM1 portfolio still has some way to go to make up for the substantial declines in FY22. HM1 has embarked on a number of changes with regards to the construction of the portfolio in response to the declines experienced in FY22.

CDM and CDO both experienced declines in the portfolio performance. Both LICs had high levels of cash over the period, which provided a level of downside protections but was also a drag on the portfolio when compared to the market returns. CDO's shares sold off to a greater extent than the portfolio decline which resulted in the LIC trading at a discount at 30 June 2023.

Specialist - International &amp; Other

Cumulative Total Returns (30 June 2022 to 30 June 2023)

Returns of the LICs and LITs in the Specialist category (International & Other) were mixed with the Specialist LICs/LITs providing exposure to a variety of asset classes and investment strategies.

GFL was the best performer in the category with the portfolio outperforming both the domestic and global markets. GFL provides exposure to a portfolio of global assets with the primary investment being in Berkshire Hathaway (A and B shares). GFL provides domestic investors a way to gain exposure to Berkshire Hathaway, the A shares of which trade at over $500,000 per share. Berkshire Hathaway performed strongly over the FY23 period with the returns boosted by a weakening Australian dollar. Shareholder returns were also the highest for the category, however lagged the pre-tax NTA with the Company trading at a significant discount to pre-tax NTA at 30 June 2023. During the year, the Company exited its position in the MSCI Index Fund and allocated capital to the ECP Global Growth Fund, a new fund issued by ECP Asset Management which is domiciled in Ireland. The ECP Global Growth Fund provides exposure to the investment process of the Manager applied to global markets. The Fund is expected to have a mid and small cap bias and invest predominantly in developed markets. A key benefit to investors is the Fund has exposure to a zero fee class structure and therefore, GFL shareholders will derive the full benefit of any returns from the fund, minus costs.

ALI's listed global infrastructure strategy provided marginal positive returns. While this asset class can provide a hedge against inflation with the income of the underlying assets often linked to CPI, infrastructure companies can also be highly leveraged. The impact of the increasing interest rate environment on debt payments weighed on some companies in the infrastructure market.

After a strong 1H'FY23, TGF's portfolio weakened in the 2H'FY23 with the pre-tax NTA at 30 June 2023 below the pre-tax at the start of the financial year period. The pre-tax NTA was impacted by the capital raise that was completed in the 2H'FY23, in which the Company issued shares at a substantial discount to NTA.

Absolute Return

Cumulative Total Returns (30 June 2022 to 30 June 2023)

PGF continued its strong performance over the FY23 period with the portfolio being the best performer in the category. The performance comes after the portfolio delivered downside protection in the FY22 period, providing a positive return in a negative market. PGF's portfolio is relatively concentrated with the portfolio comprising 40 positions at 30 June 2023. The top 5 long positions as at 30 June 2023 account for 33% of the portfolio. The Company has a long/short mandate, however has a long bias.

After the substantial underperformance of the broader market in FY22, the VG1 portfolio pared back some of the losses, with the pre-tax NTA increasing 13.0% for the FY23 period. Shareholders also received some reprieve with the shareholder return outperforming the pre-tax NTA as a result of the discount narrowing. However, the Company continues to trade at an expanded discount.

LSF generated a positive return over the period with the pre-tax NTA being one of the better performers of the peer group over the short-and-medium term periods. However, with the High Water Mark as the performance hurdle, shareholders have seen significant fee leakage in the last two financial years.

RF1's portfolio saw a marginal increase over the FY23 period. During the year, the Trust added three new strategies to the portfolio, diversifying the portfolio by asset class and strategy with the addition of the Water Strategy, the Private Credit Strategy and the Resources Royalties Strategy. The Small Companies Strategy was the best performing strategy over the 12-months to 30 June 2022 after experiencing significant drawdowns in the FY22 period. The Resources Royalties Strategy has delivered a positive return since its inclusion as has the Private Credit Strategy. Both these strategies are currently concentrated with the Manager seeking to diversify these portfolios as attractive investment opportunities are identified, however given the nature of the underlying assets this will take time.

Private Equity

Cumulative Total Returns (30 June 2022 to 30 June 2023)

The portfolio returns for the LICs and LITs in the Private Equity category were varied as is to be expected given the differences in the investment strategies across the vehicles. Private Equity funds were not immune from the macro economic headwinds with some portfolios experiencing write downs in valuations for some investments as the outlook has changed.

BTI experienced a decline in portfolio value over the period with the listed positions a drag on the portfolio. The investments that have listed are now marked to market on a monthly basis resulting in increased levels of volatility in the portfolio value. The Company takes a conservative approach to the valuations for unlisted investments with the Company typically adjusting the value on the basis of a third party investment.

PE1's portfolio value declined slightly over the FY23 period on the back of mark downs in some of the private equity holdings. The mark downs were largely offset by the weakening Australian dollar and so investors were protected from the declines to some degree.

Fixed Income

Cumulative Total Returns (30 June 2022 to 30 June 2023)

The Fixed Income LITs performed strongly with the unitholders of portfolios exposed to floating rate securities benefiting from the rising interest rate environment.

The LITs that provide exposure to direct loans all continued to maintain steady NAVs, providing an increased income stream and low levels of capital volatility.

During the year, there were periods at which some of the LITs providing exposure to direct debt were trading at elevated discounts with the expectations of a slowdown weighing on market prices. As fears eased and inflation subsided from its peak the private debt LITs that are considered to provide riskier exposure, MOT and QRI, re-rated back towards their NAV with unitholder returns outperforming NAV returns over the period. QRI's unit price was further buoyed by the introduction to the ASX All Ordinaries Index after being reclassified as a MREIT.

After experiencing significant declines in FY22 due to the exposure to predominantly fixed rate high yield bonds, NBI generated a positive performance for the FY23 period. Inflation subsiding from its highs and cash rate rises slowing has provided a reprieve from the accelerated declines experienced in bond prices. While there may be further rate rises to come which may put some downward pressure on the capital value of the underlying securities, the declines should not be as pronounced, as long as there are no major defaults causing loss of capital. In this regard, the portfolio is highly diversified reducing the risk associated with an individual security.

Dividends/Distributions

The below looks at the ordinary dividends/distributions declared by the ASX-listed LICs and LITs for the FY23 period compared to the FY22 period.

LIC and LIT share/unit holders fared well with 51.3% of LICs and LITs increasing the ordinary dividends/distributions declared for the FY23 period and 78.8% of LICs and LITs either maintaining or increasing their ordinary dividends/distributions on the prior year. We note that the trust structure of LITs means that they are required to payout all income and realised capital gains generated in any given year. As such, distributions will be dependent on the performance of the portfolio in any given year which can lead to high levels of distribution volatility. This compares to the company structure of LICs, which allows them to reserve income and capital gains for future dividend payments.

Tribeca Global Natural Resources Limited (ASX: TGF) and H&G High Conviction Limited (ASX: HCF) paid maiden dividends during the period with HCF listing during the FY23 period.

As a category, the Fixed Income LITs delivered the greatest increase in distributions with a median increase in distributions for the FY23 period of 34.6%. Fixed Income LIT unitholders benefited from the increasing interest rate environment.

Australian Equities - Large Cap

Dividends/Distributions Declared (excluding special dividends)

All Australian Large Cap LICs and LITs either maintained or increased the ordinary dividends/distributions for the FY23 period.

PIC delivered the greatest increase in dividends with a 30.4% increase in ordinary dividends with the LIC delivering the greatest full year dividend in its history in the FY23 period. The dividend increase was a result of strong portfolio performance with PIC's portfolio being the best performer in the category over the FY23 period, as discussed above.

WLE continued to increase the dividend with the LIC increasing the dividend amount in each financial year period since the commencement of dividend payments in 2017.

DJW continued to deliver improved dividends with dividends increasing 9.1% for the FY23 period to 15 cents per share. This is after the LIC increased dividends 25% in the FY22 period. The increased dividend reflects the Company's revised dividend policy in which the dividend will reflect the Net Operating Profit per share (which excludes the impact of open option positions). The amended dividend policy provides a more sustainable dividend policy for the Company while allowing for potential NTA growth. The Company has paid an increasing dividend in each semi-annual period since the lows of the interim dividend in FY21, reflecting the improved Net Operating Profit, which was back above 2019 levels in FY23. The revised dividend policy may result in downside dividend volatility during periods when the Net Operating Result declines, however removes the risks associated with the Company seeking to maintain an unsustainable dividend and the negative impacts that can be associated with this.

Australian Equities - Mid &amp; Small Cap

Dividends/Distributions Declared (excluding special dividends)

*LIT structure.

There were three LICs and LITs that declared declines in dividends/distributions, two of which were LITs. Distributions of LITs can be volatile given LITs payout the distributable income in any given year which is impacted by both income received and realised gains. The third was Spheria Emerging Companies Limited (ASX: SEC), whose dividends represent a percentage of the post-tax NTA at the end of each calendar quarter. As such, dividends will increase or decrease in line with the post-tax NTA, subject to the Company having sufficient Profits Reserve. While the dividends declared for the FY23 period were down on the FY22 period, the June quarter dividend of 2.8 cents per share was a 27.3% increase on the pcp as a result of the Company increasing the quarterly dividend target from 1.0% of post-tax NTA to 1.25%.

CIN delivered the greatest dividend increase, with the FY23 ordinary dividend 19% higher than the ordinary dividend declared for the FY22 period. The Company also paid a special dividend of 9 cents per share in the FY23 period. Despite the muted portfolio performance, QVE dividends increased 8.3% in the FY23 period.

HCF paid a maiden dividend in FY23 with the Company listing during the period.

WAM maintained the full year dividend for the FY23 period of 15.5 cents per share. The dividend coverage levels are depleted at the annual dividend rate, however in an investor webinar the Chair made it clear that the Company would be seeking to maintain the dividend until it is forced to make a cut. To continue to maintain the dividend, the portfolio will have to supplement income received by the investee companies with sufficient capital gains.

WAX maintained the final dividend for the FY23 period, however the dividend was 60% franked as opposed to being fully franked. The Company paid out all available franking credits. Based on this we would expect the Company to maintain the dividends if possible and frank to the maximum extent possible, unless it is determined shareholders would prefer for the dividend to be fully franked, in which case the dividend would likely have to be rebased.

International Equities - Diversified & Emerging Markets

Dividends/Distributions Declared (excluding special dividends)

*LIT structure.

All but one LIC/LIT in the International Diversified and Emerging Markets category at least maintained the dividends/distributions for the FY23 period with 60% of the LICs/LITs in the category increasing the dividend/distribution.

MEC declared the greatest dividend increase for the FY23 period in the category, with dividends increasing 77.8% to 8 cents per share. The dividend increase was a result of the Company announcing a change to the dividend policy during the period, with the Board intending to declare dividends equivalent to the value of the Company's current total Profit Reserve before the expiry of the initial term of the Investment Management Agreement (IMA), which is due to expire in May 2027, unless extended. The Company intends to pay quarterly dividends of at least 3.5 cents per share until the end of the initial term of the IMA. This dividend amount may increase in the event of further accruals to the Profit Reserve. The Company has sufficient franking credits to fully frank three more quarterly dividends at 3.5 cents per share, without the accrual of any additional franking credits. The Board will consider how to apply accrued franking credits at the time it declares a dividend.

Post the FY23 interim dividend, WQG increased the frequency of dividends from semi-annual to quarterly with the Company paying one semi-annual and two quarterly dividends for the FY23 period. Dividends declared for FY23 of 6.55 cents per share represented a 13.9% increase on the prior year. The Company has announced that it intends to pay a dividend of 6.9 cents per share for the FY24 period, fully franked, a 5.3% increase on the FY23 full year dividend.

MFF declared a full year dividend of 9.5 cents per share, fully franked, for the FY23 period, a 26.7% increase on the prior year. The Company has steadily grown the dividend paid over the last five years.

Dividends/Distributions Declared (excluding special dividends)

HM1 has increased the frequency of dividends from annual to semi-annual. HM1 declared the first semi-annual dividend for the half year period to 30 June 2023 of 7 cents per share. This was in addition to the annual dividend of 13.5 cents per share paid in April 2023. This saw the dividends declared for the FY23 period increasing 51.9% on the prior year.

CAM's dividends slightly increased in the FY23 period with dividends up 2.5% when compared to the prior year. CAM paid an increased dividend in each of the quarterly dividend payments for the FY23 period.

CDM and CDO dividends declined 12.5% and 6.7%, respectively, in the FY23 period with the final dividend for both LICs declining from the pcp. The dividends were cut for both LICs due to the depletion of the franking credit accounts. To maintain a fully franked dividend, the Company will need to accrue additional franking credits or alternatively potentially cut dividends further.

Specialist - International & Other

Dividends/Distributions Declared (excluding special dividends)

*LIT structure.

The Specialist (international and other) category includes LICs and LITs that provide exposure a wide variety of investment mandates and asset classes. During the FY23 period, ALI, D2O and WAR all increased their full year dividend with WAR declaring the greatest percentage increase with the dividend increasing 16.7% on the prior year.

TGF paid a maiden dividend for the FY23 period with the Company paying an ordinary full year dividend of 10 cents per share and a special dividend of 7.5 cents per share, taking the full year dividend for the FY23 period to 17.5 cents per share. It would appear the Company has exhausted its retained earnings and has no reserves as at 30 June 2023. As such, future dividends payments will be reliant on capital gains generated by the portfolio.

Absolute Return

Dividends/Distributions Declared (excluding special dividends)

*LIT structure.

The majority of Absolute Return LITs/LITs either maintained or increased ordinary dividends/distributions for the FY23 period. PGF maintained the full year dividend for FY23 of 10 cents per share, fully franked, in line with guidance provided to the market at the beginning of the financial year. PGF announced in their FY23 results that the Company intends to pay a minimum dividend of 10 cents per share, fully franked, for the FY24 period.

VG1 increased the final year dividend for the FY23 period to 5 cents per share, fully franked, resulting in a 5.6% increase to the full year dividend declared for the FY23 period. VG1 has a dividend policy to pay a semi-annual dividend of at least 4.5 cents per share, franked to the maximum extent possible.

LSF continued to steadily increase the dividend, with the Company declaring a full year dividend of 10.5 cents per share, a 23.5% increase on the prior year. LSF has paid an increasing dividend in each semi-annual period since the Company commenced paying dividends.

Private Equity

Dividends/Distributions Declared (including special dividends)

*LIT structure.

^Represents special dividends paid in the FY22 and FY23 period.

Given the nature of private equity investments and the dividend/distribution policy of some of the LITs and LITs in this category, we have included special dividends in the above chart.

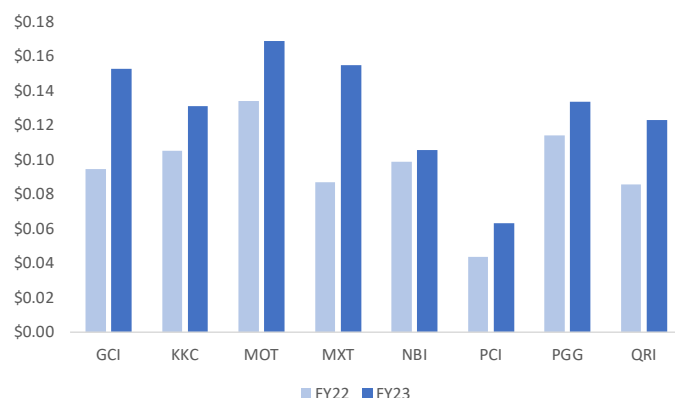

The distributions for CD1, CD2 and CD3 represent the special distributions paid in the FY22 and FY23 period. These LITs pay special distributions upon the realisation of investments and therefore the frequency and size of distributions varies.

WMA saw the largest increase in dividends/distributions for the FY23 period in the category with dividends increasing 25.0% to 5 cents per share, fully franked. While the Company has dividend coverage through the Profits Reserve, given the limited liquidity of the underlying investments, the Company will require regular income and realised capital gains to maintain a regular dividend over the long-term.

BTI's dividend declared for the FY23 period declined 9.5% on the prior year to 6.7 cents per share. BTI's dividend policy is to pay a dividend that represents 2% of the pre-tax NTA as at end of each half-year period (31 December and 30 June). As such, the dividend will fluctuate based on the variations in the pre-tax NTA.

Fixed Income

Dividends/Distributions Declared (excluding special dividends)

Fixed income LITs experienced the greatest increase in distributions as a category with those LITs with exposure to floating rate securities benefiting from the increasing interest rate environment.

MXT delivered the greatest increase in distributions with distributions increasing 77.9% on the prior period. GCI, PCI and QRI also delivered substantial increases in distributions of 61.3%, 43.8% and 43.3%, respectively.

KKC's distributions increased 26% on the prior year and in June 2023 announced the target yield for the FY24 period would increase 52% to 20 cents per unit. The uplift in the distribution reflects the Trust's decision to cease the buy-back program and reallocate the income as distributions to unitholders. IIR views this as a significant positive for investors.

NBI is largely exposed to fixed rate securities and therefore did not realise the same uplift in distributions as those LITs that are exposed to floating rate securities. In March 2023, NBI announced an increase in the monthly distribution from 0.711 cents per unit to 1.22 cents per unit, representing an annual distribution of 14.6 cents per share, a 72% increase on the previous annual distribution of 8.5 cents per share. The increased distribution will include both an income and a capital component, with the Trust embarking on a return of capital program in an attempt to create demand and narrow the discount at which the vehicle has traded. The revised distribution rate will continue until 30 June 2024, at which point the distribution rate will be revised.

Outlook

One of the key themes that came through from managers in their outlook statements for the upcoming year was one of caution, with a number of managers cautious about the current market valuations given the economic outlook. This is a theme that has been prominent throughout the year. In the 2023 Annual Report, the Portfolio Manager of the PIC portfolio, Vince Pezzullo, commented "In the US, the earnings yield on US stocks has now fallen below the 10-year bond yield for the first time since 2001." "This does not seem like a sustainable proposition and either bond yields or equities would need to fall to re-establish some sort of premium for equity risk. Mostly when equity markets and bonds disagree, the bond market is right, so this is not a time to be taking heroic levels of investment risk." This is a sentiment shared by a number of managers, particularly those with a value focus.

While inflation levels have subsided they are still above the acceptable band of 2%-3%. Global growth is expected to slow, however low unemployment rates have seen the economy be more resilient than many anticipated given the rapid increase in interest rates. There remains a lot of uncertainty and as such we would expect the market to be volatile in the short-term as expectations for the economy are reassessed.

Given the uncertainty in markets, we believe this is a good time to be exposed to actively managed investments with active managers often outperforming markets during periods of uncertainty and heightened volatility. We saw this in the rebound from the COVID-19 market declines where a number of managers outperformed. With a number of LICs and LITs trading at elevated discounts, this may be an attractive time to invest in closed-ended vehicles with the potential to generate additional capital returns in the event the discounts narrow. We note however, that it is important to understand the investment strategy and mandate of a LIC/LIT and the impact that differing market conditions may have on the performance of a LIC/LIT.

Active ETFs

About Active ETFs

Active ETFs are a type of exchange traded product (ETP) traded on the ASX and Cboe Australia. While traditional exchange traded funds (ETFs) adopt passive strategies that synthetically track the performance of an index or other benchmark. Active ETFs are actively managed funds. The legal structure is the same as a traditional managed fund, but the units can be bought and sold on the ASX just like shares. Unlike listed investment companies, Active ETFs are open-ended with a market maker. This ensures the units trade close to net asset value. The manager issues new units as required to meet market demand.

WHO IS IIR?

Independent Investment Research, "IIR", is an independent investment research house based in Australia and the United States. IIR specialises in the analysis of high quality commissioned research for Brokers, Family Offices and Fund Managers. IIR distributes its research in Asia, United States and the Americas. IIR does not participate in any corporate or capital raising activity and therefore it does not have any inherent bias that may result from research that is linked to any corporate/ capital raising activity.

IIR was established in 2004 under Aegis Equities Research Group of companies to provide investment research to a select group of retail and wholesale clients. Since March 2010, IIR (the Aegis Equities business was sold to Morningstar) has operated independently from Aegis by former Aegis senior executives/ shareholders to provide clients with unparalleled research that covers listed and unlisted managed investments, listed companies, structured products, and IPOs.

IIR takes great pride in the quality and independence of our analysis, underpinned by high caliber staff and a transparent, proven and rigorous research methodology.

INDEPENDENCE OF RESEARCH ANALYSTS

Research analysts are not directly supervised by personnel from other areas of the Firm whose interests or functions may conflict with those of the research analysts. The evaluation and appraisal of research analysts for purposes of career advancement, remuneration and promotion is structured so that non-research personnel do not exert inappropriate influence over analysts.

Supervision and reporting lines: Analysts who publish research reports are supervised by, and report to, Research Management. Research analysts do not report to, and are not supervised by, any sales personnel nor do they have dealings with Sales personnel

Evaluation and remuneration: The remuneration of research analysts is determined on the basis of a number of factors, including quality, accuracy and value of research, productivity, experience, individual reputation, and evaluations by investor clients.

INDEPENDENCE – ACTIVITIES OF ANALYSTS

IIR restricts research analysts from performing roles that could prejudice, or appear to prejudice, the independence of their research.

Pitches: Research analysts are not permitted to participate in sales pitches for corporate mandates on behalf of a Broker and are not permitted to prepare or review materials for those pitches. Pitch materials by investor clients may not contain the promise of research coverage by IIR.

No promotion of issuers' transactions: Research analysts may not be involved in promotional or marketing activities of an issuer of a relevant investment that would reasonably be construed as representing the issuer. For this reason, analysts are not permitted to attend "road show" presentations by issuers that are corporate clients of the Firm relating to offerings of securities or any other investment banking transaction from that our clients may undertake from time to time. Analysts may, however, observe road shows remotely, without asking questions, by video link or telephone in order to help ensure that they have access to the same information as their investor clients.

Widely-attended conferences: Analysts are permitted to attend and speak at widely-attended conferences at which our firm has been invited to present our views. These widely-attended conferences may include investor presentations by corporate clients of the Firm.

Other permitted activities: Analysts may be consulted by Firm sales personnel on matters such as market and industry trends, conditions and developments and the structuring, pricing and expected market reception of securities offerings or other market operations. Analysts may also carry out preliminary due diligence and vetting of issuers that may be prospective research clients of ours.

INDUCEMENTS AND INAPPROPRIATE INFLUENCES

IIR prohibits research analysts from soliciting or receiving any inducement in respect of their publication of research and restricts certain communications between research analysts and personnel from other business areas within the Firm including management, which might be perceived to result in inappropriate influence on analysts' views.

Remuneration and other benefits: IIR procedures prohibit analysts from accepting any remuneration or other benefit from an issuer or any other party in respect of the publication of research and from offering or accepting any inducement (including the selective disclosure by an issuer of material information not generally available) for the publication of favourable research. These restrictions do not preclude the acceptance of reasonable hospitality in accordance with the Firm's general policies on entertainment, gifts and corporate hospitality.
