Bailador validates PE valuations

Bailador Technology Investments Limited (BTI) invests in private Australian and New Zealand information technology companies in the 'expansion stage' of their business cycle, with global addressable markets and a high growth trajectory. Bailador favours Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) and Marketplace business models, with target businesses typically generating a minimum of $5m in revenues from a growing customer base at attractive unit economics.

Provided the majority of the portfolio is unlisted and not subject to mark to market pricing, reported valuations within monthly updates are reviewed on periodic basis via third-party valuations or generally accepted industry valuation techniques, resulting in lower NTA volatility. While information technology multiples surged last calendar year, Bailador has taken a conservative approach, only recognising valuation increases based on business performance, or specific third-party transactions in the portfolio companies. More specifically, Bailador had written down its investment in Stackla to zero in September 2019 after Facebook and Instagram prohibited the data harvester from interacting with their platforms. Despite Stackla's rightful reinstatement after just six weeks, this valuation was held at nil for a total of 12 months.

More recently Bailador upgraded the carrying valuation of Instaclub from $13.3m to $40.4m (+49%) following its acquisition of Credativ. At the time of the announcement, this transaction had not involved a third-party valuation event for Instaclub, and so no immediate uplift in the net tangible asset value per share was provided for. However a $100m capital raising by comparable open-source software startup Aiven saw the Manager upgrade its stake in the combined business. Considering this conservative approach and assuming that global tech sector valuation multiples continue to advance, this treatment may imply greater material upside and imbedded value within the Bailador portfolio. This would suggest an even greater indicative discount.

Bailador has recently entered into a period of profitable partial and full cash realisations, selling holdings in Straker Translations and SiteMinder last financial year. The February 2021 exits from DocsCorp and Viostream further solidifies this trend and has assisted in acknowledging portfolio performance. Instaclub is yet to see such activity (see Figure 1). We believe that further evidenced history of such third party transactions, in particular those with material full cash realisations above the reported carrying value (see Figure 2), will act to validate portfolio valuations and provide additional share price accretion.

Bell Potter's Indicative NTA tracks the 'indicative' movement of a LIC's underlying NTA each month by monitoring the percentage movements of the disclosed holdings, and using an index to track the movement of the remaining positions. We have also included an adjusted indicative NTA and adjusted discount, where applicable, which removes the LIC distribution from the ex-dividend date until the receipt of the new NTA post the payment date.
