LICs to provide equity income

Investors are preparing for widespread reductions in domestic equity dividends as the COVID-19 pandemic hits corporate profits. NAB has cut its interim dividend YoY by 64% whilst ANZ and Westpac have deferred upcoming interim dividends. Dividend cuts or deferrals will be prevalent across many sectors. As a result, many LICs will experience a reduction in the dividend/distribution revenue received with more emphasis on profitable realisations of investments and trading to generate income for shareholders.

For LICs that tend to buy and hold for the long term this could present a shock that results in near term reductions in the dividends paid. Fortunately, the structure of a LIC enables current period profits to be carried over to future years enabling LICs to build profit and franking reserves that allow for a smoother distribution of dividends. LICs trading at a discount will further enhance the yield of the portfolio.

AFIC Ltd (AFI) hasn't cut the dividend for 32 years and despite trading at a ~10% premium to the pre-tax NTA is currently on a trailing 12 month net and gross yield of 4.1% and 5.9%, respectively. AFI had a $1.1bn profit reserve at the end of 2019, approximately 93cps. At the end of FY19 AFI had $208m of franking credits. AFI is in a strong position to maintain the current dividend, whilst still providing investors with exposure to large-cap Australian equities. Approximately 25% of the investment portfolio is in financials. The management expense ratio of 0.13% is low and competitive with ASX 200 ETFs.

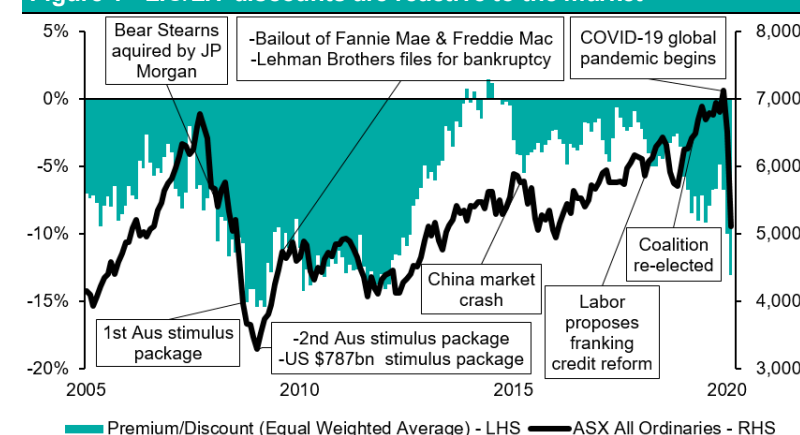

Whitefield Limited (WHF) was established in 1923 and has maintained or increased the dividend in each of the past 31 years. As at 31 March 2019, WHF reported a profit and realised gain reserve of approximately $1.38 per share. WHF is currently trading on a ~2% premium and offering a net and gross yield of 4.6% and 6.6%, respectively. At the end of March 2020 WHF had a 29.1% exposure to financials, including 21.1% to commercial banks.

LICs on high trailing dividend yields that are likely to maintain the current nominal dividend are trading at wider premiums as investors seek sustainability of future income.

Buying high quality LIC/LITs at large discounts

LIC/LIT premiums and discounts are reactive to market conditions and sell-offs can result in high quality managed LIC/LITs trading at very attractive prices, as was the case at the end of March. As per previous years, we expect the average discount to be the widest during May before tightening over the second half of the calendar year. July is on average the best performing month for LIC/LITs, and the wide discounts can further enhance returns with discount normalisation.

Bell Potter's Indicative NTA tracks the 'indicative' movement of a LICs underlying NTA each month by monitoring the percentage movements of the disclosed holdings, and using an index to track the movement of the remaining positions. We have also included an adjusted indicative NTA[^] and adjusted discount[^], which removes the LIC distribution from the ex-dividend date until the receipt of the new NTA post the payment date.
